TUESDAY EVE., NOVEMBER 23, 1886.

The papers of Pendleton cost that country more than $3,300 annually.

"ALICE OATES is lying at death's door in Philadelphia," says the Louisville Post.

"PICKAWAY," of the Cincinnati Enquirer, predicts that the Republican ticket in 1888 will be Blaine and Foster.

At Owenton, this State, the grand jury at its recent session reported ninety-three indictments, most of which were for violations of the local option law.

The grand jury seem to be waking up throughout the State, and are now waking up the criminals, too. Fifty-three indictments were reported at Catlettsburg last week.

T. V. POWDERLY is in for high tariff, and Henry George believes in free trade. When the Knights of Labor win they will probably compromise by agreeing with the Democrats for a just and equitable revision of the tariff.

The authorities of Boyd County did some pretty quick work last week. Bill Slinger and wife, of Ashland, were arrested on the 16th for grand larceny, and two days later were sentenced to one year each in the "pen," at Frankfort, for the offense.

The Advertiser, of Billings, N. Y., nominates John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, for President in 1888, and David R. Hill, of New York, for Vice President. It would be a winning ticket, against any and all opposition that could be mustered against it.

At a recent session of the Magoffin Circuit Court, John Anderson and Jack Johns were sentenced to the penitentiary for life, for murdering John Stapleton was sent up for twenty-one years for killing a man, and James George for one year for horse stealing.

BLAINE'S bid for the Irish vote is being checked by John A. Logan, who is writing a book in which he claims to be somewhat of an Irishman himself. Both men are catering to the laboring vote, and neither one is entitled to any consideration from that element.—Exchange.

THE Owen County Democrat furnishes figures for $707 which a quart of whisky cost the State, and brought it in 10 cents revenue for license. The whisky made two men, Wilson and Johnson, drunk, and they committed a murder. Nothing is said of a word being brought on the murdered man's friends.—Bourbon News.

THE Shelbyville times accounts for Governor McCree's increased majority in the Eighth district by the fact that there was no bitter fight for the nomination, and consequently no ill feeling to overcome in the party rank. The Democrats of this district can learn a valuable lesson from the above simple statement.

AN attempt was made a day or so ago to assassinate Howard Logan, at Morehead. While walking alone and near his home, he was fired at by some unknown parties. The second load, a charge of buckshot, broke one leg below the knee. Logan's son was killed last summer, and it is thought the old warfare will be resumed.

JEFFERSON DAVIS, ex-President of the late Confederate States, attended the dedication of a Baptist Church at Fairview, Todd County, last Sunday. The church is built on the site of his birth place, and he donated the grounds on which it stands. He is in his seventy-ninth year, and this will likely be his last visit to his "old Kentucky home."

A TEACHER giving his time to two pupils, in a dilapidated building, mangled a school house, is an interesting sight; and a school house with the rain coming through the roof is another. These things have been seen in this county by the School Superintendent. Should such things continue? In the name of the neglected teachers and children, we call for a change.—Georgetown (Ky.) Times.

HENRY BRAMLET GILLISPIE, elected Lieutenant Governor of Colorado on the Democratic ticket, was born and reared in Nicholas County, Ky., and was named for an old citizen now living at East Union. Mr. Henry Bramlet, father of the successful farmer and politician, G. W. Bramlet. When it was announced that the Democrats had carried the State of Colorado, Mr. Bramlet was heard to remark: "I knew the name would carry that boy through." Mr. Gillispie went to Colorado a poor boy, but his energy and investments have made him a millionaire, and it is more than likely that he will be Colorado's next United States Senator.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

Mr. Cleveland Deserves Credit.
Mr. Cleveland has restored District Attorney Benton to the office from which he was suspended for "pernicious activity." Furthermore, Mr. Benton is not reinstated because it has been found that he was not active in the last campaign, for he was, but because the charge that he neglected the duties of his office proved to be false.

This conclusion of the President amounts to a rejection of his first idea of pernicious activity, and places him squarely on the platform for the regulation of officeholders proposed by the Sun a few weeks ago. This was: "Do your duties. Then do as you like." So long as District Attorney Benton did his duties, he was at liberty to employ his leisure in any proper way that suited him best; and so Mr. Cleveland now appears to decide.

This rule is not only sensible, but it is Democratic. Mr. Cleveland will receive full credit at the hands of the party for adopting it, and it gives the Sun great pleasure to record the fact with emphasis.—New York Sun.

The real truth is that the people didn't want a Democrat to represent them in the Fifth Congress, hence the majority of them voted against Judge Wall.—Republican Enterprise.

The editor of the Enterprise knows well enough without having it told to him that neither Theodore nor Wadsworth would have been elected to Congress from this district had it not been for the Democratic votes they received. Without the support from the Democrats, both gentlemen referred to would have been snuffed under most beautifully, and the editor of the Enterprise knows these Democrats never voted for the Republican nominee simply because the nominee was a Republican, and because they wanted a Republican to represent them. In Mr. Wadsworth's case it was from personal friendship, and in Mr. Thomas' case it was from fancied personal grievances. The statement that the people didn't want a Democrat to represent them in Congress is all loath.

SINCE navigation was resumed, 11,767,000 bushels of coal have been shipped from Pittsburgh. There is nearly that much more loaded and ready for shipment.

SUNDAY IN BOSTON.

A General Stagnation of Business Caused by Enforcing an Ancient Blue Law.
BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 23.—Churches and religious institutions were about the only places in which could be opened with safety in this city Sunday. The revival of the ancient blue law concerning Sunday observance has put in the hands of the police the duty of those people whose Sunday trade hitherto has been a strong feature of their business. Barber shops, drug stores, photograph galleries, cigar stores, and even the places where Hebrew merchants carry on their trade were generally closed. Restaurants and bakeries were the only places of business that appeared to be exempt from the effects of the supreme court's recent decision.

During an hour's walk in the forenoon, a reporter found one drug store that was closed before noon. The sign which the druggists displayed at their windows were in the window a big leather-bound volume of the public statutes was displayed heavily draped in mourning. The barbers, having been ruled before, and having won what they supposed was a victory, had signs already prepared, which read: "This shop will be open Sunday until further notice." They took these old signs and pasted the word "closed" over the word "open" and hung them in closely curtained windows.

Some of the photographers had framed and displayed in the windows the chapter of the public statutes passed in 1862, which says that people who keep Saturday as a day of rest may work Sunday without hindrance. Sunday is a time of harvest for them. Though all liquor saloons and drug stores were closed the druggists were at all hours. At all places had to do was to ring the bell to get access to most of the drug stores, where he could quench his thirst. It was almost impossible to get a cigar or tobacco, however. Several of the druggists condemned the revival of the blue law, and the people, as a rule, are thoroughly disgusted with the day's experience with an absolute law.

Suspension of Foul Play.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 23.—The body of Dr. Knox, of Hamilton county, who was found dead in his bed at Hot Springs, Ark., a week ago, and whose remains were held at Dover for exorbitant expenses charges, was re-interred by the coroner and buried Saturday.

There are rumors that Dr. Knox met with foul play. He had $600 in cash, a fine watch and two new suits of clothes on the day previous to his death, and on the following morning when found his money and valuables were missing.

Escaped from the Penitentiary.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—Thomas J. Bossett, one of the most notorious criminals in the Baton Rouge penitentiary, and a life convict named John Sloat, escaped Saturday night, evidently by outside aid. Bossett was serving fourteen years for forging a marriage license by means of which he betrayed a respectable young girl. He was formerly chief of the prison here.

A Coal Mine at Shelby's Hole.
SHELBYVILLE, Pa., Nov. 23.—The Peoria Anthracite company's coal mine and breaker, including about 1,000 acres of land was sold at sheriff's sale Saturday to R. K. Dew of New York, for $500,000, subject to incumbrances. This is considered to be a great bargain for the purchaser.

Only a Rumor.
NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—It was rumored that Fulginiti, the "boozy" alderman, who confessed his guilt, had committed suicide. Not much credence is given the rumor.

Charles McCoy and Professor Woods fought in an inch-bow fight, Nov. 12, for $200 a side. Woods was knocked out in the sixth round, after several punishment.

Boarding-House Maxims.
(The Judge.)

Never order eggs.
Never ask to be served twice if you own any back bone.
The landlady is generally a widow, and flirts accordingly.
Steer clear of the young widows who are boarding in the house.
See what kind of a game the boarders play before you buy any chips.
Never appear to be deeply interested in the man who is full of schemes.
Beware of the boarder who never has any change when the washerwoman calls.
When you go off on a racket have the girl leave a pitcher of ice-water at the head of your bed.

If you want to be happy make yourself self solid with the table girl and the chambermaid.

Buckler's Arnica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. C. Peor & Co.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay County, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50 cents at the drug stores of J. C. Peor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

SWIMSON County is one better than Mason. The jail down there is empty, while Henry Bush is the only prisoner behind the bars here.

JAMES WATT, of Stumping Ground, Scott County, is said to have a glass tumbler that was brought over from Scotland in the year 1600.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla works directly and promptly to purify and enrich the blood, improve the appetite, strengthen the nerves and brace up the system. It is, in the true sense, an alterative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

We are reliably informed that there will be an effort made to finish the Mayville and Big Sandy Railroad from Greenwood to Ashland about the 1st of January, 1897. Kelley & Wilson will complete the masonry for the bridge across Little Sandy by the last of December.—Greenup Gazette.

If people troubled with colds would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or place of entertainment, they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of both speakers and hearers. Public speakers and singers find that the Pectoral wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice.

JAMES HENDERSON desires us to announce that he has withdrawn from the race for City Marshal in the interest of James Rankins. The withdrawal was brought about by an amicable arrangement between the two, after their friends, to whom the question was left, had failed to agree as to who should make the race. If Mr. Rankins' friends will now rally to his support as they should, he will be the next City Marshal.

The Poynts—Hall Nuptials.

The marriage of Mr. O. T. Poyntz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Poyntz, of this city, and Miss Minnie C. Hall, of Orlando, Fla., on the 17th instant, has been noticed heretofore by the Bulletin.

Mr. Poyntz and his bride are now here on a visit to relatives. The Orlando Daily Record, of the 14th instant, in referring to the nuptials, says: "The Presbyterian Church was filled last night with the elite of the city, the occasion being the wedding of Mr. O. T. Poyntz, of the First National Bank, to Miss Minnie C. Hall, of Orlando, Fla. The church was most profusely and elegantly decorated with evergreens and flowers. A series of floral arches across the aisle, very elaborately formed of evergreen foliage and delicate blossoms lent an air of extreme picturesque to the scene, and the many very exquisite designs in flowers and foliage clearly indicated that many tasty friends had been at work in transforming the plain walls of the church edifice into a very bower of floral loveliness. Among a number of designs may be mentioned as especially beautiful a handsome Cupid's bow and arrow of white flowers, and some pretty arches of smilax and chrysanthemums. Over the center of the altar hung an elegant floral heart, some four or five feet in height. In the center of which was woven in interlarding buds the monogram of the bridal pair. Bordered on either side were tall, full grown banana plants and ferns, the whole ceremony was performed being covered with rich tapestry and oriental rugs.

The bride and groom were preceded up the aisle by the two little daughters of Mr. Poyntz, (May and Louise) sisters of the groom, who strewed their way with flowers from dainty baskets carried on their arms. The bride costume was of rich, white satin with pearl bead trimming, and was an exceedingly beautiful costume becomingly worn by a charming looking bride. The groom's attire was of rich, white satin with pearl bead trimming, and was an exceedingly beautiful costume becomingly worn by a charming looking groom. The couple at the altar formed a very pretty picture. On either side of the bride stood the two little girls mentioned above, strewing flowers as the ceremony was being performed, the soft strains of an organ volitionally by Professor Werfield lending additional solemnity and beauty to the scene.

A LITTLE child of J. J. Cornelison, of Mt. Sterling, while getting something from a mantel a day or so ago, caught fire and was fatally burned before the flames were extinguished.

MONTGOMERY County claims the championship for heavy-weight cattle this year. One hundred and seventy-two head were sold last week, of which the largest weighed 1,702 pounds and the smallest 1,090 pounds.

G. W. LAYCOCK, T. S. Pinnell and Edward Hervey, of Jessamine County, drew one-fifth of the capital prize in the Louisiana lottery this month. They are tobacco raisers, and will invest their money about $5,000 each, in land.

An incendiary fired two tobacco barns near Steptoe, Bath County, within the past few days. Both were destroyed, together with the contents. Parties named Cassidy and Roe are the losers. The loss is partly covered by insurance. The incendiary was shot at, but escaped.

Every day brings fresh testimony of the superiority of Ballenger's Diamond spectacles over any others. A lady who had not been able, with any others, to see the eye of a needle for years, seen perfectly with the Diamond. Others, after a few weeks, are able to discontinue the use of spectacles entirely. For sale by Ballenger.

Work has been suspended on the eastern abutment of the railroad bridge at Limestone Creek. The contractors were driving piles when the river in the river filled the pit last night, and all work on that abutment will be delayed until the waters recede. The abutment on the west side of the creek is about half completed.

Mrs. W. D. HIXON, of Mayville, was in the city a few days last week. He is Secretary of the Historical Society of Mayville, and Librarian, and is always on the lookout for something to add interest to the library and society. He secured a History of Bath County, by Col. V. B. Young, while here.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

SAMUEL LASHBROOK died last evening at the home of his brother near Dimmitt's Station. The deceased was one of the sons of the late Peter Lashbrooke, and belonged to one of the pioneer families of this county. He had been suffering from consumption for several years past. The funeral services were conducted this morning, and his remains were taken to Missouri for burial beside those of his wife and child.

The concert at the opera house last night was a pleasant and enjoyable entertainment. The crowd in attendance was larger than many expected to see. The First Regiment Band did splendidly, under the leadership of Professor Knoll, and all the selections rendered by the boys were received with the warmest applause. The cornet solos by Professor Knoll were among the most enjoyable features of the programme. To show how well his playing pleased the audience we have only to state that he was encored time and again. The drill by the U. R. K. of P., under command of Capt. Refin, added much to the evening's entertainment. The boys presented a handsome appearance in their attractive uniforms.

LIVES OF PRESIDENTS.

MR. ARTHUR'S WAS NOT NEAR THE AVERAGE IN DURATION.

But a short space of Time Between the White House and the Grave—Only One President Living Congressmen's Interviews on Politics.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Ex-President Arthur did not live out the average number of years allotted to ex-presidents. They are not a long-lived set of men, for the strain upon the system of a man in the position of president is very great. The strain is both physical and mental. It is a wear upon the body, the nerves, the mind and the stomach. To be the target for attack for every penny-ance in the country and every editorial writer who can command a lead pencil or a hearing in a newspaper, is enough to drive away the features of life which tend to longevity. Then to undergo the duties of the position both as to actual work and the strain upon the harrow and mind, is enough to wear out the most rugged and add to this the duties which pertain to the social features of the position, late and long suppers, high living, turning night into day, is no wonder that the presidents do not live long after their terms expire.

A few have lived a good long time after their retirement from office, but the exceptions which prove the rule. There is John Adams, for instance, he lived a full quarter of a century after he retired from office as president, and died at the good old age of ninety-one. Fillmore lived twenty-one years after retiring from the presidency. Van Buren twenty years, Madison and Jefferson nineteen years each. But those were the good old days of simplicity. The average term of life of presidents after leaving the White House is less than ten years.

The death of Mr. Arthur leaves but one living ex-president in the White House. This has happened but three times in the past seventy-five years that there has been but one living ex-president. There have been two periods in the history of our country when there was not a single ex-president living. One of these was after the death of Washington, in 1799. There was a period of sixteen months between Washington's decease and the time that his successor, John Adams, became ex-president. Then there was a period of six months between Grant's term, after the death of Johnson, that there was not a single ex-president living.

On the other hand, there have been occasions where we have had as many as four, and on one occasion five, living ex-presidents. On July 3, 1905, there were four living ex-presidents Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe. On July 3 there were but two, for Adams and Jefferson, as is well known, passed away on the same day, the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. There was another occasion, in 1861, when there were five living ex-presidents, Buchanan, Pierce, Fillmore, Tyler and Van Buren. This did not continue long, however, for Buchanan died, the latter day of the month when both Van Buren and Tyler died.

Congressman Springer on Politics.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Representative Springer, of Illinois, was interviewed last night, regarding the national campaign of 1908. He thinks Mr. Cleveland is essentially a candidate. "If there is a labor candidate for the presidency in 1908," says Mr. Springer, "as is likely, it will disturb all conditions and upset all calculations. Mr. George, being a free trader, would attract a large Democratic and a small Republican vote, thus placing the straight Democratic candidate under a serious disadvantage. But if Powderly were nominated, and he seems to be pretty much of a man, he being a protectionist, would naturally draw the bulk of his support from the Republican party and defeat the Republican candidate for a certainty. There is also a possibility that a strong labor vote would carry a state or two, which would leave every candidate without an absolute majority of electoral votes and throw the election of a president into the house of representatives. Mr. Blaine will be the Republican nominee without a doubt. He is in the field already and every day he is doing something to help his cause along. Mr. Cleveland will be the Democratic candidate."

Our American Navy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The chief of the bureau of construction and repair in his annual report states that the number of serviceable vessels in the navy comprises two first rate, ten second rate, twenty third rate and seven fourth rate vessels. The latter class including two torpedo raas. In addition to these vessels, the naval list comprises thirteen tops and twelve wooden sailing vessels used for training and training ships.

Those completed or authorized to be built are: The Dolphin, complete; the Boston and Atlanta, announced incomplete; the Chicago and the five monitors, incomplete; the Baltimore, Charleston and Newark, and two gunboats, under advertisement; and four, an armored cruiser, a battle ship, a pneumatic dynamite boat and a torpedo boat, not yet designed.

An Extra Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—An extra session of Congress has been called out by persons who claim to know whereof they speak, that a strong effort will be made by representative labor men to secure an extra session of the Fifty-third congress immediately after the expiration of this congress on March 4 next, to consider questions affecting labor. It is understood that the labor movement is organized among the laboring men of the country, calling upon the president for an extra session, and that the labor advocates in congress will champion it. The extra session, it is supposed, shall be devoted exclusively to labor questions.

A Destructive Fire.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 23.—A most destructive fire occurred at Marysville, a town of about 3,000 inhabitants, situated seven miles west of Harrisburg, at an early hour this morning, destroying seven buildings, including one stable, one hotel, two dwellings and two store houses. The portion of the village now in ruins covers nearly an acre of ground. "There is no apparatus in the place, and the land brigade could give little or no assistance toward staying the flames, owing to the incalculable nature of the buildings. Aid was asked of the Harrisburg fire department, and responded by sending an engine and hose. The latter rendered valuable aid, and succeeded in having the fire under control. The aggregate loss will be about $1,000, on which there is but little insurance. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin."

MAY the youth of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy today as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Darnall, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quality."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff, itching, and itching. P. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I have been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh.
